Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 19 .- Dorris of Oregon submitted a bill to-day in line with the recommendations of Governor Folk's inaugural address and the Democratic State platform, when he made the soliciting of a bribe a felony. The Dorris bill was presented this afternoon among a large number of measures from different

One of the first hitches over the organizution of the new House came when the report of the Committee on Rules was made by Chairman Bickley. One of the rules provided for the appointment of a Calerdar Committee at this early stage of the session. CLAIM BREWERS CONTRIBUTED TO REPUBLICAN FUND.

Grace introduced his resolution about 4 o'clock. From that time until after I, when the members had worn themselves out with parliamentlary tactics, and were freezing in the cold hall, the House fought over the resolution and various DEMOCRATS AMUSED.

To-night the Democrats are laughing at the Republican majority in the House for the Filipino movement that has been developed. Fifteen men, who voted for Kerens in the caucus, lined themselv up for the adoption of the resolution to investigate Mr. Niedringhaus and not inrestigate Kerens. All that the Democrats had to do was to vote with the Kerens Republicans and watch the other legislators squirm out of the hole the Republican majority had put itself into.

The resolution speaks of the sworn statement of the treasurer of the Repub Boan "City Central Committee" of St. Louis. Whether this is intentional is one of the mysteries connected with the resolution. Grace said to-night, after declaring that he did not care to be interviewed. that probably the State Committee was meant.

Louis Alt is treasurer of the City Committee, and there is no item of $21 000 in his statement filed with the Recorder of Deeds. There is an item of $21,000 in the statement filed by Joseph P. McCoy, secretary of the Republican State Committee, on behalf of Mr. Niedringhaus, who acted both as treasurer and chairman of the committee.

BUSCH CONTRIBUTION. At the time this was filed it was rumored that certain brewers, among them Adolphus Buch, had helped make up this item, which was considered a deficit. This was denied here to-night by friends of Mr. Niedringhaus. It is said that Mr. Busch did contribute $5,000 toward the campaign but that this was recorded.

The Rusch contribution is said to have been made following the Republican rally held in Lemp's Park Hall, a few days before the election. After the meeting Vice President Fairbanks and other prominent Republicans went to the home of Mr. Busch, where supper was served. After Mr. Fairbanks had left, according to report, Mr. Busch announced that he was a Republican and would contrib te to the campaign fund.

On the other hand, it has been charged that an effort would be made to repeal or mittee." reduce the fees of the beer inspection law. So far no such bill has been introduced. ALL BLAME SMITH

Republicans who favored the election of Mr. Niedringhaus for Senator and about half of those who voted for Mr. Kerens are denouncing the action of Grace. With unanimity they place the blame on Kerens through his lieutenant Smith. Mr. Kerens's right-hand man came to Jefferson City last Sunday night with Mrs. Smith and two other ladies. He announced that he had come to attend the inauguration. Every effort to get from him an expression of any other purpose in his visit met with the Smith smile and bland denials; that he intended to have legislators bolt the Republican caucus nominee, or organize a Filipino movement.

Still Mr. Smith did not leave last night. but remained on hand to-day. Yesterday he had Kirkham of Camden to dinner with him. To-day Grace of St. Louis dined with Smith. After dinner the two went up to Smith's room and held a con-

This afternoon when the House met Smith was on hand in the billroom, hold- er Hill, who managed to keep his head ing conferences with the legislators who through the entire proceedings, denied the voted for Kerens. He explained that he was lobbying for a bill to compel telegraph companies to keep their offices open all night in cities with over 9,000 inhabitants. "I used to be a telegrapher," he smilingly

Bittinger of Buchanan, Branch Lafayette and other Kerens Republicans all conferred with Smith. Grace professed ignorance of what was doing up to the time that he introduced the resolution. To-night he refused to say who had given to him the resolution. "I do not care to be quoted," he said. "I may tell some time, but I don't want to tell now. It raised enough trouble, didn't it?" MOTION TO TABLE DEFEATED.

A sudden awakening came over the House when Grace presented his resolution. No sooner had it been presented than Wilson of St. Louis moved that it be laid on the table. A roll call was demanded and the motion was beaten by 71 ayes to 17 nays. The following Republican Kerens men voted with the Democrats to keep it before the House: Pittinger, Branch, Cook, Elliott, Grace, Harrington, Hatzfeld, Kelley, Maples, Pettijohn, Richardson, Roach, Shaw, Stewart and Voyles. The absentee Republicans were, Bohley, Godfrey, Kleinschmidt, Seif, Thompson and Williamson, Bohley, Kleinschmidt and Self are out town. God-

Dickley of St Louis then moved to strike out the names of the Committee on the Resolution and to let the Speaker name the committee. Nearly all of the memthey did not care to serve. Oliver of Pemiscot said that he was ignorant of the matter until it had been presented, but

It is not fair to Mr. Niedringhaus to do anything less. If any other charges of a specific nature are brought against any other candidate. I am in favor of probing them to the bottom."

Wilson of St. Louis, continuing his par-Hamentary tactics, raised the point of order that the resolution had to do with matters in the office of the Recorder of Deeds and that the House could not investigate. Corkling remarked that the House could investigate anything. Speak-

PROLONGED ARGUMENT. Atkinson of Ripley, minority candidate for Speaker, referred to a speech which Speaker Hill had made only a short time before, in which he had praised the work of Governor Folk, and said that he did not believe the Republican members were ready to go on record as voting down the indictment contained in the resolution. Onleg moved an adjournment. This was again beaten on a roll call, 64 to 68. It was then about 6:39 and the janitor had falled to keep the hall warm. Members were wearing their overcoats. Dryden of Kansas City sald that he did not believe the members realized the seriousness of the charges that had been brought. "The eyes of the world are centered or Missouri at this time," he said. "The paramount issue in this State is purity of government. If the charges contained in this resolution are true, then may we find it out speedily. The people of this State. as well as the man himself, owe duties to themselves in this matter."

Muir of Lowis said that he thought the House had a right to investigate, but that he was growing too cold and wanted to adtourn. The motion was ruled out of order because there had been no intervening business since the last motion to adjourn Conkling of Carroll said that if the Republican majority was in earnest in the elaborate promises it had made every amendment to the resolution should be withdrawn, Newton of Wright, leading for the Republicans, said that the whole bers of the committee arose to say that | proceeding had a strange appearance to

"AIMED AT NIEDRINGHAUS." "Every line of this resolution is aimed at Thomas K. Niedringhaus," he said. There would have been no such resolution if he had not been named for Senator. It is easy enough to judge the motive. I propose to open the entire field of investigation. It is a peculiar position the Democrate occurr in this matter. Since when did the Democrats profess such confidence in the fact that nothing would be found to hurt Mr. Niedringhaus in this matter." Dorris of Oregon came back at Tubbs with an amendment, providing that Postmasters' assessments for the campaign should also be in-
